FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Cancer Support Community's Frankly Speaking About Cancer: Clinical Trials

Free educational workshop building awareness about clinical trials

St. Louis, MO. – (June 22, 2017) Cancer Support Community of Greater St. Louis (CSC) will host an educational workshop offered at no charge to people impacted by cancer. Frankly Speaking About Cancer: Clinical Trials workshop will teach people how trials are structured, and how to foster an open dialogue with their health care team about the eligibility and the viability of clinical trials as a treatment option. In addition, participants will learn about the importance of shared decision making and will be introduced to resources to help facilitate these conversations. Featured speakers include David Mutch, MD from Washington University School of Medicine and Renata Sledge, MSW, LCSW from Cancer Support Community.

Date: Monday, June 26th
Time: 6:00 PM – 8:00 PM
Location: Cancer Support Community
1058 Old Des Peres Road
St. Louis, MO 63131

For more details and registration contact Renata Sledge, Program Director at Cancer Support Community, 314-324-2000, ext. 224.

Frankly Speaking About Cancer: Clinical Trials is part of a Frankly Speaking About Cancer series, a collection of cancer-related education programs created by Cancer Support Community. This program is made possible through an unrestricted educational grant from Astellas, Celgene, Pfizer and Takeda Oncology.

Cancer Support Community of Greater St. Louis is a non-profit organization whose mission is to ensure that all people impacted by cancer are empowered by knowledge, strengthened by action, and sustained by community to enhance their overall well-being. All programs are offered at no charge in a comfortable, home-like environment. Cancer Support Community offers professionally-led support groups, educational workshops, nutrition and exercise programs, and stress management classes to empower and educate individuals affected by cancer.
